The Benefits of Horizontal Drilling

- A smaller number of horizontal well sites are needed to develop a reservoir.
- Multiple horizontal wells can be drilled from a single site, reducing the environmental footprint.
- Areas that are protected from access can be produced using horizontal drilling without harming what’s above the surface.
- Production of previously untapped resources keeps utility costs low.
- One road, one pipeline to serve multiple wells on one site.